Samurai

Samurai is Japanese and means “to serve someone” and for samurai warriors this was crucial to maintain their honour and loyalty towards the master they served. The history of the samurai begins in Japan in the 8th century, when local clans fought for survival and against threats from the outside. Over a period of approx. 1,000 years, the Japanese samurai warriors protected and served their masters and clan, developing an unbelievable fighting technique and code of honour, which is still famed and admired today.

Pirate set

The pirate set is Liontouch's complete pirate solution. The set includes a crooked pirate sable, a captain's hat and an eye patch. The skull and crossbones motif is imprinted on all of the products, just as the hat and sable are decorated with shiny rubies. Every child can become a knight and enjoy playing in no time with this set.

Princess set

The princess set is Liontouch's complete princess solution. The set consists of a sword, a mirror and a crown, all decorated with flowers and pearls. The products are also decorated with glitter so they all shine brightly. All small girls can feel like princesses with this set, while also fighting with a sword and showing what a real princess is capable of.

Knight set

The knight set is Liontouch's complete knight solution. This set contains a sword and shield, both decorated with the golden knight on horseback. The products are made with a focus on design and detail, from the background of the shield to the handle of the sword which is made up of a woven pattern. Any small knight is ready for battle with this set.

Knight Line

Noble Knight

The Noble Knight is the protector of the king. He is the most noble and selfless knight in all the kingdom, which is why he has the most important task – guarding and protecting the king. The Noble Knight is originally from England, where the most distinguished task a knight can have is to be at the king's side. Only the most talented and loyal get the chance to become a Noble Knight.

King Line Triple Lion

The Triple Lion series is based on a magnificent castle in the desolate wilderness. It's here that the Triple Lion king rules, not only as a king but also as a formidable knight. The three golden lions are the king and castle's coat of arms: a lion for courage, a lion for honour and a lion for hope. Together the three golden lions create an almost impervious community that carries on the history and legend of Triple Lion for generations to come.

D 29.103. King Cape, Triple Lion, 77 x 130 cm.

Viking Line Harald

The Viking Series has its roots in Danish Jutland in the year 800, where the most famous Nordic Viking chief, Harald, lived. Harald was not just a feared warrior who protected his clan, he was also an experienced sailor who travelled far and wide. He brought huge treasures home as well as stories about foreign people whose ability to fight would make every Viking laugh out loud. Harald's raids made the world live in fear of the Vikings and his legacy lives on today.

King Line Kingmaker

The Kingmaker helps to decide who the next king will be. Thinking of the nation's welfare, the Kingmaker uses their political, economic or military means to influence who will be the nation's head of state. The Kingmaker originally comes from England in the area around Warwick but now works all over the world to ensure his country's future.

C

The Maltese Series has its origins in the order of knighthood that was entrusted with Malta in 1530. Their duty was clear: they had to protect European landowners against sea-robber states. Throughout the centuries the order of knighthood protected Malta and preserved its sovereignty. Today, the knights are simply called Maltese Knights and the story of their heroic deeds and ideas lives on today.

D 13.804. Knight Cape, Maltese, 75 x 145 cm.

Knight Line Amber Dragon

The Amber Dragon Series is for knights who are not afraid of dragons. The dragon has its name from its characteristic red colour which is reminiscent of glimmering amber. Dragon knights need to have their equipment in order when working with an Amber Dragon and protecting their castles. Although dragons can be useful when fighting the enemy, they are also unpredictable and difficult to tame – and the amber dragon is no exception.

Roman Line

The Roman Series has its origins in Ancient Rome, where law and order were the key words underpinning the Roman Empire. The Romans were known for their ability to organise, which their army of highly trained and disciplined warriors can also confirm. As a soldier in one of the most successful empires in global history, you bore your equipment with pride and certainty of the greatness that you would defend at any cost.

A

The Golden Eagle Series concerns an ancient knight clan who fought the battle of the century ages ago. The knights' castle was under attack and it seemed that they would not be able to ward the attack off, when suddenly a golden eagle appeared out of the blue and attacked the enemy's army commander. In a moment of confusion and chaos the knight clan counterattacked, turning the battle on its head. The knight clan has been known as Golden Eagle since then and no one has ever tried to attack a Golden Eagle since.

Liontouch Philosophy

Here at Liontouch we think that sword play comes as naturally to children as kicking a ball. Throughout history children have wielded swords in imaginary battles and fought off make-believe enemies. It is with that in mind that we believe our active fantasy toys represent at once a truly classic and yet very modern play experience that will appeal to children everywhere.

Queen Line Queen Rosa

It is no surprise that Queen Rosa loves the colour rose-pink. Queen Rosa lives in the most beautiful castle and she is prepared to defend it if necessary. Queen Rosa likes to surround herself with beautiful things which is why the Queen Rosa line is made with the finest satin, golden trimmings and precious stones.

D 25.102. Queen Cape, Queen Rosa, 60 x 130 cm.

Prince Line Prince Lionheart

The Prince Lionheart Series is for aspiring and ambitious boys who dream of one day becoming king. Following in Prince Lionheart's footsteps requires hard work, courage and the will to fight for good. It is not enough to just lead others – a real Lionheart is at the forefront of the never-ending battle for justice.

Liontouch Passion

We think that it is our passion for the details which places us ahead of our competitors. We want our products to be easily recognized as the best on the market and for that we make sure that strict attention is paid to every aspect of our designs. That is why you will find battle scars on our shields and ventilation holes in our helmets.

Pirate Line Captain Cross

Captain Cross is a tough pirate who you do not want to mess with. His name stems from his motif - a skull and crossbones with two sabres crossing blades. Before the captain became a pirate, he was an admiral for a large navy, so he knows better than anyone how to keep the canons clean and the crew in place. Captain Cross is notorious on the seven seas for his countless raids and his many golden treasure chests that are buried across the globe.

Pirate Line

Pirate Red Stripe

The Captain Stripe Pirate Series is for the friendly pirate. After a shipwreck Captain Stripe is stranded on a deserted island and must try to survive with the things that were washed ashore from the shipwreck. Although the captain is friendly, a pirate must be prepared for anything, as unexpected danger could always be lurking just around the corner.

Liontouch Process

Our understanding and control over the entire process, from concept to illustrator to graphic designer to factory, has grown and flourished since we first started making foam swords in 1995. Since then we have been constantly striving to combine the best, most durable materials with intricate artwork and innovative, unique design features to maintain our standing as the No. 1 manufacturer of childrens' active fantasy toys.

Feathered at point for flexibility to ensure safety.

Fantasy Line, Dragon, Flame and Fire

The Fantasy Series is the playground for magical and mythical creatures. People and dragons live side by side and everyone is searching for power and riches. This realm is about making alliances and being prepared as there are huge powers at play and surprises are lurking everywhere.

Z-Bandit Line

The Z-Bandit is a masked avenger who appears at night. No one knows who this mythical knight is, as he works at night, wearing a midnight-black cloak, mask and hat so no one can recognise him. The Z-Bandit serves the people and fights powers of evil, injustice and oppression. He has countless enemies who wish to harm him, and the Z-Bandit must, therefore, constantly work on being one step ahead.
